

10 Ways Christians Can Effect Governmental Change

Approaching Elections

- In such uncertain times, Million Voices IGNITE shines as a torch of hope and guidance. Here, you possess the capacity to ignite life and accountability in our government, inspiring those in power to make ethical decisions that impact us all.

The Ethical Decisions that Impact Us All

Commit to praying for elected officials in local, state, and national offices.

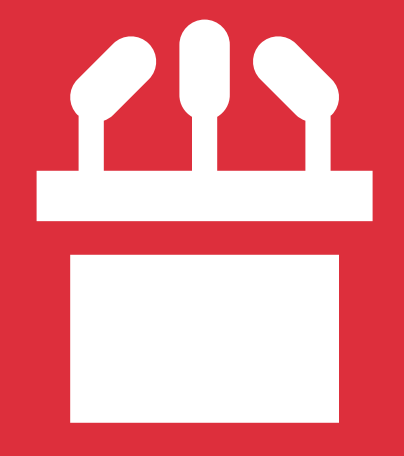

Serve the Lord through the church in your community.

Gather a group of church members to be present at every polling location during elections.

Run for city council, school board, or other open offices.

Attend city council meetings, defending Biblical values, Freedom of Speech, and religious liberty.

Find out what is on the agenda of school board meetings and be aware of what values are being taught to students. Defend parents' rights.

Stay in contact with the mayor and city council members. Go for coffee, or send thank you notes for their service to the community. Be sure to praise any positive accomplishments. Let them know you are praying for them.

Open up communication by emailing or calling state and county officials. Voice any concerns, praise accomplishments, and let them know you are praying for them.

Research legislation proposed by your state and federal officials. Know where they stand on the issues. Voice your concerns or agreements.

Register to vote and get others to exercise their right to vote as well.

Use Your Voice

- Together, let's ignite a wave of change, ensuring future generations inherit a nation rooted in biblical and constitutional values. Remember, a single spark can start a wildfire; your voice can be that spark to IGNITE a Million Voices.
